PROGRAMS & SERVICES

For the past 20 years, Focus Trust has been working in Kolar District towards community development and social, economic, educational, and environmentaldevelopment, with a special focus on water and sanitation, women's empowerment, and child development.

Women Empowerment : Focus Trust works towards women's empowerment by creating awareness through workshops, awareness programmes, and training initiatives on various topics, particularly through Self-Help Groups. The Trust also works to address and prevent domestic conflict, exploitation, oppression, and injustice faced by women. Through Santhwana Kendra, a scheme of the State Government, support is provided to women facing such challenges.

Education : Focus Trust works to support children from economically disadvantaged families who face barriers to education. The organisation facilitates their main streaming into formal education and supports children engaged in vulnerable occupations through appropriate educational interventions. The Trust also creates awareness about children's rights and encourages children to participate in Children's Grama Sabha meetings, enabling them to understand and advocate for their basic rights. Environmental protection and health awareness initiatives are also undertaken among children and communities.

Agriculture and Environmental Sustainability : More than 120 training programmes have been organised to promote sustainable agricultural practices, and approximately 3,250 rural farmers have been made aware of organic and integrated farming methods. Focus Trust also promotes environmental protection through initiatives such as World Environment Day programmes and community level environmental awareness campaigns.

Healthcare Programs : Approximately 2,480 people from rural and slum communities have been sensitised on various health-related issues. In addition, around 2,640 people have benefited from 215 free health check-up camps organised by the Trust.

Skill Development : More than 500 students have received training through computer training initiatives conducted by Focus Trust for SC/ST communities and other socially disadvantaged groups, contributing to digital literacy and skill development.
